Adam and Eve

Genesis 1:1-2:4

Adam and Eve had responsibility to care for all creation. God gave them one rule: don't eat the fruit on the tree of knowledge of good and evil. But a serpent tempted them to break that rule. They ate, and God banished them from the garden of Eden.

Take a Look

Here are some of the people and things in today's story. What can your child tell you about them?

Adam and Eve were responsible for tilling the garden of Eden and taking care of the other creatures in it.

Adam and Eve with a harder life for their disobedience, but God also gave them clothing and other resources to survive in the world.

The serpent told Eve the forbidden fruit would make her "like God" (Gen. 3:5).

About the Video

In the beginning, Adam and Eve lived in the garden of Eden. They lost favor with God because they ate fruit from the one tree they weren't supposed to. Everything was different after that. But even when they had to leave the garden, God did not leave them.

- Why do you think that Adam and Eve did the one thing that God told them not to do?
- After they ate the fruit, what happened to Adam and Eve?
 What happened to the serpent?
- Why do you think they tried to hide from God?

Try This!

As a family, decide on one rule that no one in your family should ever break. Was it easy or difficult to pick one most important rule? Will it be easy or difficult to follow?

Prayer

Dear God, thank you for never leaving us—even when we feel lost and alone. Remind us that each one of us is part of the creation that you love and care for always. Amen!
